SPEAKER

Francie Morgan
Independent Infection Prevention and Control Consultant

Francie's career in infection prevention and control spans 40 years, practicing as a nurse specialist and consulting in public and private healthcare sectors in New Zealand.

She currently works part-time consulting for selected healthcare providers. She has a long-standing passion in supporting and advocating for post graduate education for infection prevention professionals and is proud of the near 1000 students who have shared their IPC learning journey with her over the past 30 years.

Francie has been active in the IPCNC, having held the roles of secretary, treasurer and website manager, as well as regional coordinator for the Greater Auckland region. She was the founding editor of the IPCNC Infection Control publication.
